ITEMS AT THE COURTS.

An American bluejacket was fined $15 by Mr. E. R. Hallifax, at the Magistrate's Court, for being drunk and disorderly and assaulting an Indian constable.

A native was sentenced to twelve strokes and twenty-four hours' detention by Mr. E. R. Hallifax, at the Magistrate's Court, for stealing a quantity of clothing from Stonecutters barracks.

A sentence of six weeks' imprisonment and six hours' stocks was imposed on a native, at the Magistrate's Court, for obtaining money and clothing to the value of $27, at Kowloon City.

A native, who stole a bundle of clothing from under the bed of a sleeping passenger on the s.s. Charles Houdin, was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment and six hours' stocks at the Magistrate's Court, by Mr. E. R. Hallifax.

A fine $20 was imposed by Commander Basil Taylor, R. N., at the Marine Court, this morning, on the master of the licensed steam launch Tai Yik, for failing to report to the Harbour Master the name and number of certificate of Luen Kwong Yin, engaged by defendant as master. For failing to produce his certificate for registration a fine of $10 was also imposed on the master.

THE ATTEMPT ON THE PRINCE REGENT'S LIFE.

Our northern contemporaries contain very little further information regarding the recent attempt on the life of the Prince Regent, which was reported in our columns at the time through the Wah Tsai Po service. A Peking telegram to the Ostasiatische Lloyd declares that the excitement in the Palace is intense, as is only natural, and that attempts are being made officially to deny everything, just as was the case when the attempt on the Regent's life was made on Christmas Day. The Conservative Party makes as much use of the situation as they can; they spread everywhere the rumour that the Progressive Deputies, who are urging the immediate establishment of a Constitution, are behind the attempt. On the other hand it is stated that the originators most he sought amongst these discontented Manchus who have fallen into disgrace and who hope from acts of violence to effect a change, which will bring them again honours and influence. Furthermore, all kinds of rumours are circulated that numerous followers of the old Revolutionary party of Sun Yat-sen have lately arrived in Peking, but nothing is known which would really support these statements. Outside the Palace everything is quiet; this alone seems to clearly indicate that in the substance only Palace intrigues have involved.

FORTHCOMING BOOKS.

Messrs Methuen's spring list of forthcoming books is decidedly attractive. Under Belles Lettres we find a book entitled
"The Upper Garden" in which Mr Robert de la Condamine, taking the idea of a garden as defined by Aristotle, deals with the subject as it concerns itself to wanderer, saint or student. Sir William Butler is down for a volume which promises many delightful things.
There is a lecture on Napoleon—sombre and startling in its conclusions, a sympathetic study of Farnell, who, in Sir William Butler's opinion, must for ever remain a human mystery. Other articles are a study of St. Patrick from a decidedly original point of view, and some delightful descriptions of the characteristic beauty of Ireland, phrased in charmingly poetical prose. Among the art books are works devoted to Titian, Turner, Schools of Painting and Christian Symbolism, all of which are fully illustrated. "The Fascinating Due de Richelieu," is the title of a volume of biography which should attract a good many readers, dealing as it does with a man who played many parts during a long and eventful life: the friend of Voltaire, the confidant of Louis XV., a wit, a duellist, a courtier, dilettante and soldier, and above all the lover of his age. Another book dealing with a man famous in history is that which Mr R. Dunn-Pattison has written about "Edward, the Black Prince." It is strange, indeed, how little is known of this distinguished Prince of Wales. No modern historian has yet attempted a minute analysis of his character, and the popular English hero, this great soldier of the Hundred Years' War, is to most of us a mere figure of romance. The author of this book has striven to present to his readers, in a popular form, a true and unbiased history of the hero of Crecy, of Poitiers, and of Najera. He lays no claim to minute research, but he has consulted the modern works on the fourteenth century and such documents as are now in print. The book should appeal to a large circle of readers for along with the description of the stirring scenes of old, run the development of a character, which, not unsuccessfully, stood the trial of success, and which emerged triumphant when assailed with disease and ill-fortune.

Dr. Alfred Plummer is responsible for the sixth Handbook in the series on English Church History, dealing with Church of England in the Eighteenth Century. The aim of the volume, we learn, is to vindicate the character of the eighteenth century, not by questioning the existence of many dark features, but by showing that there are many bright phases in it which are often ignored. It is suggested that some of the evils in the Church and in society were due to the ill-treatment which the Church received; while the reform of many evils is traced partly to the literary influence of the Essayists, but chiefly to the religious influence of the Methodists and the Evangelicals. The separation of the Methodists from the Church is regarded as deplorable, but inevitable. The conduct of Church and State towards the colonies is regarded as disastrous. The progress of religious liberty is traced, and eight leaders of thought are taken as illustrating the contradictory estimates of the century.

"The Parish Registers of England," by Mr J. Charles Cox, deals with the story of the earliest registers from the general order of Cromwell in 1538, etc., right down the years till 1850. The variety of subjects touched upon is really bewildering in their variety and genealogical, book-lovers, and those who delight in sauntering along unfamiliar pathways will find ample pickings to delight and entertain them.

Turning to another part of the List, we find Sir Ray Lankester bringing out a volume entitled "Science from an Easy Chair." It is addressed to the general reader and deals with a large variety of subjects belonging to the domain of natural history, astronomy, prehistoric archaeology, the investigation of disease, and the story of extinct animals. Each chapter is complete in itself, and many are illustrated. Amongst the subjects treated are the migrations of the eel, the story of the American poison vine, the true pose of the galloping horse, comets, the spectro-scope and the heavenly bodies, the history of dragons mythical and real, the simplest living things, the nature of cholera, grouse, disease, tadpoles, jumping beans, clothes moths, the death-watch, and the hopfly.

The book is intended to while away an hour from time to time, and should attract those who, though desirous of knowing more about the results of scientific investigation, and valuing correct and authoritative information, yet require such information to be placed before them in a readable and agreeable form. Whilst aiming at holding his reader's attention by a simple and often humorous style, Sir Ray Lankester never loses sight of the dignity and vast importance to human life and happiness of that knowledge of nature in which he is an ardent believer.

We have not space for further extracts from Messrs Methuen and Co.'s List-to-day, but it is to say that every taste seems to be catered for and the number of new novels which the firm will issue between now and midsummer will be suitable both for quality and attractiveness.

CANADA'S TRADE IN THE ORIENT.

Relations between Canada, China and Japan were discussed at the luncheon tendered by the Canadian Club of Ottawa to Dr. Kung, Consul-General for China, and T. Takamura, for Japan.

In his address, Dr. Kung first traced the history of Chinese civilization and the different forms of government existing in the early days. China, he said, had tried almost every form of government, and was now going back to one of her older methods whereby each province has a representative assembly. In six years' time a Parliament will be held in Peking. Coming to the relations of China and Canada, Dr. Kung said: "It has been said that to barter is inherent in human nature. According to the geographical factor, especially as regards the western part of Canada, the commercial intercourse between the country and China should be greater than in the case with some other countries. I am sorry to say that there is at present a comparatively small trade between Canada and China; it is of the value of just over one and a half million dollars per year. In Canada, apart from those who work in the laundries, we have a few business men, but not as many as there should be; and this is equally true of Canadian merchants in China. I should say that this is because the industrial condition of China has not yet been fully developed, and also because Canadian merchants have not thoroughly awakened to the possibilities of trade with China. We are endeavouring to improve the industrial condition of our country and the prosperity of Canada is increasing so rapidly year by year that there ought to be a great increase with China too. We use a large quantity of flour which is imported from the United States of America, then, railway sleepers and timber are imported also from the United States and Japan. Germany also exports various articles into China, among which I may mention paper. Canada should have some share of the trade in these directions. During this year we are going to open an industrial exhibition near Shanghai. It is to be international. The Government has arranged that goods for exhibition may be taken into the country duty free, any taxes on such goods being paid only when the goods are sold. I think Canadians should do all they can to make their goods well known in China, if they wish for an increase of trade. Only a few years ago, even English people knew very little of all the various Canadian products, so one can understand that Chinese people know less about the great resources of your Dominion. I think, if Canadians will take the chance offered by this exhibition of advertising their goods in China, the intercourse between China and Canada will increase and the two countries will be bound closer and closer in friendly relations.

Mr. Takamura, Japanese Consul-General, said that what attracts first and mostly, the attention of foreign visitors to Canada was the tremendous activity of the country and the expansion of its trade and national strength and continuing, said: "I cannot but feel exceedingly pleased to be able to take advantage of this occasion to express, as the representative of Japan in this Dominion, my sincere gratification at the most cordial and friendly relations which happily exist between Japan and this rising country at the twentieth century, and to say, at the same time, that it is our honest desire to maintain, strengthen and promote the happy relations of international friendship. There exists no ground why Canada's trade with the Orient should not be considerably increased, on the contrary, the future of your trade with the Orient should be decidedly 'encouraging.' The present insignificance means merely a greater opportunity for future development. In fact, in the Oriental markets there is already a great want for just such products as are the output of your Canadian forests, farms, mines, fisheries and manufactures. The present undeveloped state of your trade with the Orient is worthy of your serious consideration. The truth is, that if your people have been too much occupied in opening up your own natural resources to properly value the great possibilities of the Oriental markets close to your hand, and this has been in order to meet your home demand as well as those of your southern neighbours and of the countries beyond the Atlantic. With the continued increase in your population and the subsequent development of all branches of your industries, the time will surely come when a greater proportion of your goods across the Pacific and we, on our part, will anxiously pray for the early arrival of this most auspicious time.

ENGLISH POLITICS.

He would be a very bold man who would venture a prophecy concerning the ultimate outcome of the present contest between the House of Commons and the House of Lords. Mr. Asquith, urged on by the inexorable forces set in motion by the most rabid demagogues of the present day, is evidently bent on giving the British Isles a brand new constitution whether they desire it or not, by eliminating from the political arena the men who constitute what is known as the Peerage. By a series of resolutions he is moving in the matter and the first of these, declaring that the House of Lords has no right to express any opinion by means of amendment, much less reject, any money bill passed by the House of Commons, has received the assent of the lower Chamber. Three hundred and thirty-three voted with the Government and two hundred and thirty-seven against, the majority in favour of the resolution being one hundred and two, thus showing that the Irish Nationalists and the Labour Party solidly supported Mr. Asquith in the division.

So far the first trick apparently has been taken by Mr. Asquith, but what will follow? Can the House of Lords be expected to calmly submit to being snuffed out of existence? We should say not. Neither would the country permit of the constitution being torn up in this fashion. But the Liberal Government does not wish the country to have a say in the matter if it can help it. Mr. Balfour, the leader of the Labour Party, indeed, urges the Prime Minister to "pluck up courage" and proceed to the furthest extreme regard- less of all such immaterial things as the opinions of the electorate as expressed in the ballot box. The lesson taught by the last election to the Labour party evidently is that democracies are fickle and that it is well when once a man has been returned to Parliament that he should stick to his seat as long as he possibly can, so great are the hazards and disappointments of a general election. But we are afraid, Mr. Balfour, notwithstanding, that this question will have to be submitted to the country and that those people who are expecting another appeal to the constituencies in May are not far wrong in their calculations. The Veto resolutions once passed by the Commons will have to be incorporated in a Bill and this Bill must proceed along constitutional lines and obtain the consent of the House of Lords before it can be submitted to the King for final approval. Hence we expect that upon such a Bill being thrown out by the Lords, the present Liberal Government will decline to bring in its Budget and thus the administration of the country will come to a standstill until such time as the electorate have elected a new House of Commons.

Such a result will be very deplorable from every point of view and only the most purblind partisan can find justification for Mr. Asquith's action. He has had no mandate from the country to pursue the path he is now taking. It is the pressure of the Nationalists and the Labour Party that is urging him on his reckless way. Already the newspapers are anticipat- ing that should the crisis be precipi- tated in May there will be no money in the Treasury for paying the Civil Service and discharging the obliga- tion of the Old Age Pension Act, for the Government have only asked for monthly supplies, instead of six-monthly as is customary. To such a low ebb has political manoeuvring dropped in England. It makes one blush for the old country that such despicable tricks should be played by otherwise honourable men in order to score off their opponents. Sir Robert WALPOLE'S idea of government by corrupt partisan- ship was comparatively pure compared with the principles now animating the Liberal Party. The game of politics has surely never sunk to a lower ebb. And the best of it is, these tricks are being played in the sacred name of the rights of the people! No wonder we English are looked upon as a race of hypocrites.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

A dividend of 1/6 per share has been declared by the Anglo-French Investment Company, of Shanghai.

Cold weather has led to much misery in Nanking and several rice shops have been looted by the hungry people.

The entries for the Shanghai Spring Race Meeting exceed previous entries by over 1/2, 2,000. There are no less than 65 entries for the Derby.

A riot has occurred at Nanjing in Anhwei owing to the magistrate prohibi- ting the export of rice. The Chamber of Commerce was pulled down during the trouble.

The Commander of the Military Force at Chungking-pu, Kiangsu, telegraphs to the Shanghai Military Governor that there has been a serious disturbance among the foreign-drilled soldiers.

The Shanghai offices of Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews at No. 11 Yuen-ming-yuen Road, were recently broken into. The thief or thieves found little to their liking, and the sum of fifty cents was all that was stolen, though every drawer in the office had been ransacked.

Last night at the Y. M. C. A. rooms the Rev. J. A. A. Baker gave a greatly appreciated address to men on "The facts and evidences of Christ's Resurrection." Mr. A. H. Harris presided and Mr. R. S. Pierce sang the solo, "Nazareth" most pleasingly. There are to be five more of these Sunday evening meetings. Next week Bishop Lauder is to speak on "The application of the fact of Christ's Resur- rection to present-day life." At the four subsequent gatherings the speakers will be Hon. Dr. J. M. Atkinson, Dr. McCracken, Capt. Mackenzie and Col. St. John.

Sir E. Shackleton is planning a purely scientific geographical Antarctic expedition to start towards the end of 1911. The expedition will not enter into competition with that of Captain Scott. Sir E. Shackleton's bases will be Cape Adare, in South Victoria Land, and Adelaide (a tract of barren land in the Antarctic Ocean). The expedition will explore between Cape Adare and Ganselov, which is about due east of the Pole, near Kaiser William II. land. The staff which Sir E. Shackleton has in view includes some of his old com- panions. Mr. Douglas Mawson, of Sydney, will be the scientific director. Financial support has already been promised.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Mr. G. P. Lamont offered by auction to-day, in one lot, the Salon Cinema Theatre, but no sale was effected.

Messrs. Ramos and Ramos contemplate opening a skating rink on the ground adjacent to the new Empire Cinematograph Theatre.

The old Victoria Cinematograph is already being demolished and it is expected that the new building will be completed in about three months.

The rain on Sunday was very welcome. The long drought, which practically set in about the middle of November has played and havoc with vegetation generally.

Some serious rioting has occurred at Peshawar, owing to racial quarrels between Hindus and Mohammedans, and the assistance of the military had to be invoked before quiet was restored.

Agents for shipbuilding firms are very busy in Peking at present. Opinion seems to be general that German yards will get most of the work, but the British firms represented are not relaxing their efforts to secure a plum or two.

The Chinese Engineering and Mining Company, Limited, report that the total output of the Company's three mines for the week ending 28th March amounted to 27,257.80 tons and the sales during the period to 29,532.37 tons.

Owing to the new Japanese tariff increasing the tax on ships bought in foreign countries, there is said to be a brisk demand at home for ships by Japanese buyers who are anxious to fill their requirements before the new tariff comes into operation.

It is reported that Prince Tse Tsai when visiting Osaka Arsenal, requested that some of the workmen employed there should be allowed to accept engagements in China. A large number of workmen have expressed their willingness to go to China.—Nagasaki Press.

Last week there were seven cases of communicable diseases notified in the Colony. Four of these were of Diphtheria—one Chinese, one Eurasian and two British—but none of them was fatal. There were three cases of small pox (all Chinese), of which two ended fatally.

British manufacturers and exporters have formed an influential association to combat unscrupulous foreign competition. It is not proposed to boycott foreign goods generally, but only those passed off as British manufacture, and in such cases it is intended to prosecute the defrauders.

Mr. Percy Alden (Liberal) has organised an extensive signed memorial of Liberal and Labour members of the House of Commons to the Prime Minister (Mr. Asquith). The memorial urges Mr. Asquith to resort to a referendum in order to avoid the disorganisation of business and the heavy expense of another election.

The late Mr. T. H. James, whose death is recorded by Reuter, was keenly interested during his stay in Japan in magnetism, and in consequence of his connection with the Nippon Yusen Kaisha all commanders in that service were asked to furnish him with magnetic observations from time to time. They did so, of course, but got their revenge by nicknaming the investi- gator "Magnetic James."

The Empire Cinematograph Theatre maintains its reputation as a first-class music hall and every night the house is crowded. Miss Maggie Fraser is as popular as ever while Miss Addie Leigh has completely won the sympathy of the numerous patrons. Miss Winnie Ryan, too, is well received, and is frequently recalled as well as Master Percy. To-night Signor J. Tarrara will make his debut.

When King Albert of Belgium visits England the City of London will give a banquet in his honour, on which occasion an important speech is expected, a speech which is calculated to dispel English distrust of Belgium's policy in the Congo. It is believed that King Albert's interview with King Edward will result in the British Government recognising Belgium's annexation of the Congo.

A contract for 6,000 tons of steelwork, comprising 400 bridge spans varying from 7ft. to 100ft. in length, and required in connection with the doubling of the South Manchurian Railway system between Su-Chun-Tun and Dairen (Dalny), has been awarded to Messrs. Dorman, Long and Company, of Middlesbrough. The contract represents the largest foreign structural work lately placed with a British firm, and it is officially stated that the keenest competition was experienced from American bridge builders.

The Bank of England, in view of the Government's decision not to secure legisla- tive sanction for the collection of the in- come tax, has informed the London County Council that it intends to refund the amounts deducted upon the application of the owners of stock. The announcement refers to £74,600,000 worth of London stock, whereas income tax amounts to £120,000 sterling. The London County Council has hitherto held this at the Government's disposal but the Treasury never applied for it. The Council has agreed to the bank's decision.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The customs revenue for Shanghai for the past quarter shows an increase of well over half a million taels as compared with the same quarter a year ago.

On Friday, the 15th inst., His Excellency the Governor will be "at home" at Government House in honour of Their Highnesses the Gaskwar and Maharani of Baroda.

The Empress Dowager is anxious that a younger sister of ex-President Roosevelt should take charge of the future Kwei-tai Girls' College, and has ordered that funds for the purpose be drawn from the Imperial Treasury.

Major J. H. Gwynne, late of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, who owned and rode valiantly in the H. K. races about 1902, has been killed at his home in Sussex while out hunting. His horse fell while taking a big gate and rolled on top of him.

Mr. S. Iwagawa, Chairman of the board of directors of the N.Y.K., arrived this morning en route to London, by the a.s. Miyazaki Maru. Mr. J. Kusumoto, local manager of the Company, has issued invitations to leading Chinese shippers of the Colony and Japanese gentlemen to meet Mr. Iwagawa, at the Jung-tin restaurant, at 7 p.m. this evening.

From Peking the China Critic learns that although Mr. Aglen, the late Com- missioner of Customs at Hankow, has been appointed as acting Inspector-General of the I.M.C., nothing definite is known as to Sir Robert Hart's return or retirement, or even as to his successor. Sir Robert Brydon's new post is not settled, but it is probable that he will be appointed as adviser to the Board which manages the Communications, Customs, Posts, &c. &c. It will however, be some time yet before definite arrangements are made as to the substantive appointments.

THE DIVORCE INQUIRY.

Sir Francis Piggett's Views.

Before the Royal Commission on Divorce of March 16, Lord Gorell presiding, very interesting evidence was given. The first witness called was Sir Francis Piggett, Chief Justice of Hongkong, who in giving evidence on the question of domicile, said there was a master mariner in Hongkong whose legal domicile was "Scottish," and after one of his voyages he found it necessary to institute divorce proceedings. Because his domicile was in Scotland he had to go there to present his petition, although the alleged miscon- duct occurred in Hongkong. The evidence, which was very voluminous, had to be taken on commission, and in the end the Scottish Court, finding the misconduct proved, pronounced a decree of divorce, but held that they could not cite the co-respondent, who was in Hongkong. The petitioner incurred very heavy costs, and the results of his wife's infidelity was his own bankruptcy. Sir Francis suggested that where a court had jurisdiction in divorce it should also have jurisdiction against the co-respondent.

Lord Gorell.—Suppose the man is living on an island. How can you give this country jurisdiction when he owes no allegiance to it?

The witness said he admitted that it raised a difficult question of domicile. Another point was that in the overseas States a large proportion of the population, having always the desire to return to England, never acquired a domicile. He suggested that it might be possible in such cases to hear divorce cases in the Overseas States, and then let the petitioner move the Divorce Court in London, who should formally pronounce the decree of divorce.

The national law, he thought, should be substituted for the law of domicile. It was almost entirely due to the law of domicile that in mixed marriages people might find themselves married and their children legitimate in one country and unmarried and their children illegitimate in another. The nationality of the husband should be the test.

Mr. Gillett, the Governor of California, must have recently kissed the blarney stone. No wonder Lord Kitchener responded briefly, after being hailed at a public banquet as "the greatest general of the greatest army on earth." Modesty, thank goodness, is still a distinguishing characteristic of great Englishmen.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF THE ITALIAN CONVENT.

Interesting History.

To-morrow is a red-letter day in the history of the Italian Convent for it marks the golden jubilee of the foundation of the institution of the Convent Sisters of Charity, in Hongkong, so named after Magdalene, Marchioness of Canosa. The Mother-house is at Verona while the Novitiate for foreign missions is situated at Pavia. It was on February 14, 1860, that four devoted Sisters left Pavia for Hongkong and they were met by two others at Canton. These pioneer band of six faithful and enthusiastic Sisters arrived at Hongkong on April 12, just fifty years ago to-morrow, and the splendid result of their self-sacrifice, combined with that of their no less worthy successors, has established in Hongkong an institution of which the Colony is justly proud.

It is all very well to read of the successes of an institution which has grown with the Colony but intermingled with these achievements have been many bitter tears which were only dried by sublime faith in the goodness and mercy of the Almighty. Sister Lucia Capin was the first Superior, and of the six Sisters first died at various places in China, only one being still alive, the Rev. Mother Stella, who is at present in the Convent in Hongkong. Within the first month of their arrival the Sisters opened a day school and foundling home. Prior to that, just sixteen days after their arrival, Miss Emily Bowring, daughter of Sir John Bowring, Governor of Hongkong from 1854 to 1859, entered the Convent, and later became one of the most worthy Sisters that has ever been connected with the mission. She died in 1870 after ten years of useful work.

As an instance of the rapid growth of the institution there were seven sisters, eighty day scholars, four boarders and nine orphans in the Convent within about eight months after the following year the first Chinese Sister took the veil. It is interesting to note that she is alive today as well as the first two orphan girls who were received in the Convent. At the request of Monsignor Zanelli, the then Vicar Apostolic of Hupé, five Sisters left for Hupé, North China, on July 28, 1868, where a convent was founded on similar lines. This was followed by the opening of the branch at Wanchai, St. Francis School, in 1869, with a small hospital and refuge adjoining. In October of the same year the mission sustained a severe loss by the death of Sister Lucia Capin, whose work is remembered today by the institution which is a monument to her pious memory. After the disastrous typhoon in 1874 a branch house was opened in Macao, while some five years later another school was opened at Dilly, Timor, the Sisters being shipwrecked on their way thither. Subsequently district schools were opened at Sobada and Munatutu, also in Timor, Cochin, 1880, Belgium, 1890, Namat, 1905, and Samboe, 1907. A school was opened in Bridges Street, Hongkong, in 1880; at Yau-mut in 1887, Hunghing in 1889, Shaikwan in 1890, the last named on the ground presented to the Convent by Messrs David-Sassoon and Co., and the Sacred Heart School, West Point, 1893, which is at present a foundling home. Mother Claudia was elected Superior in 1895 and her death was deeply regretted on January 30, 1899. She was succeeded by a faithful Sister in the person of Sister Theodore Lucia.

During the outbreak of plague in 1894 the Italian Sisters rendered yeoman service by nursing patients at Kennedy Town Plague Isolation-Hospital, Sister Anna herself falling a victim to the disease while attending Chinese patients. For their invaluable and heroic work the Sisters were highly commended by a grateful government which to this day takes a great interest in everything pertaining to the welfare of the institution. St. Mary's School, Kowloon, was opened in 1900 while the acquisition of the "Roghill" property in the same year enabled the Convent school and orphanage to be very considerably enlarged on its present site in Caina Road.

By the deplorable death on April 23, last year, of Mother Theodore Lucia, Mother Teresa succeeded as Superior. Naturally such a large institution, whose influence is felt throughout the length and breadth of the Colony, as well as South China, necessitated a considerable increase in the number of the personnel and at the end of last year there were sixty-seven European Sisters, and forty-one Chinese sisters connected with the Convent. The total number of pupils in the Hongkong Convent, and its dependencies is 1180, of whom 640 are Chinese, 240 orphans and 72 Europeans.

In connection with the Golden Jubilee of the Italian convent the order of the divine services will be as follows:—To-day Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will take place at 5.30 p.m. On the Jubilee Day, three Masses will be celebrated. 1st. Low Mass at 6 a.m. by the Rev. Fr. Andrea Leong. 2nd. Low Mass and General Communion at 7 a.m. by His Lordship the Right Rev. Monsignor D. Pozzoni. 3rd. Solemn High Mass at 9.30 a.m. sung by the Very Rev. Fr. P. de Maria with the Pontifical Assistance of His Lordship the Bishop. The Convent choir consisting of 70 children will render the choral part of the service. "Te Deum" followed by Benediction will take place immediately after Mass.

An entertainment will be given by past and present pupils of the Convent on the same day commencing at 4.30 p.m. at which His Excellency Sir Frederick Lugard has kindly consented to preside. The Superior sincerely hopes that all the friends of the Convent will honour the occasion with their presence.

Hongkong Tides.

The tide table given below has been compiled at the Nautical Almanac Office in London from the result of the analysis of observations taken by means of an automatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Talm She Tai during the years 1867-9.

The zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the soundings in the Admiralty Charts which has been found to be 4 feet 3 inches below mean sea level.

To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 3 feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lamont Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 8 inches to the height given in the table.
